LIST OF COLONEL JAMES E. PEPPER'S ANIMALS AND WHAT THEY BROUGHT.

The sale of the Ehret stables on Saturday night was one of the chief subjects of conversation among turfmen yesterday. The general opinion was that the horses brought just about what they were worth. There Don Alonzo brought were some exceptions, however. only $30,000. Many of the turfmen thought that was or price, and expected him to bring at least 35,000, if not $40,000. A good three-year-old can win a barrel of money in these days, and consequently it is surprising that Don Alonzo went at so low a figure. Practically speaking he was the champion two-year-old of this year. It is doubtful whether he is the equal of Morello, but as Morello is not entered in the rich stakes offered by the jockey clubs under the rule of the Board of Control, he looks to have on his form this year most of these stakes at his mercy. He is entered in the American Derby and Stakes, offered by the Washington Park Club at Chicago. These two stakes are to be the features of racing at Chicago during the World's Columbian Exposition. Don Alonzo is also entered in the Brooklyn Derby and the Carleton Stakes, offered the Brooklyn Jockey Club; the Withers, Belmont, Fleetwood, Glen Island and Jerome stakes, offered by the New-York Jockey Club; the Realization, Tidal and Sea and Sound stakes, offered by the Coney Island Jockey Club, and the Comparative, Lorillard, Stockton, Stevens and Omnibus stakes, offered by the Monmouth Park Association. On performances no horse has qualifications to dispute his title to the three-yearold championship of 1893. His engagements are so valuable, that should be succeed in winning only a few of them his earnings will reach hundreds of Of course Don Alonzo will not win all of the rich stakes for which he is entered; he will not even start in many of them

Sir Francis, who brought $26,000, will, therefore, have a chance to win a large amount of money, as he is entered in the same stakes. However, many turfmen think that, compared with the price brought by Don Alonzo, his price was high, as Runyon, Ledgerwood and Young Arion are also entered in the same stakes, and will probably beat him in some of the races. Young Arion is not really in the first class. However, if a horse in the first class is a little off, he is apt to be beaten by Young Arion.

Yorkville Beke brought $24,000. This is really more than she is worth, because she has no engagements for next season. She is now merely a handi-cap mare. She has won a lot of money, it is true. but then she won it in the three-year-old filly stakes, and she had practically a walkover in every one Next year she will have to meet such horses as Tammany and Lamplighter and others cap weights, and she will not have an easy time of it racing against such good colts as they are.

A good two-year old can win more money in stakes strange then that good yearlings should bring high prices. Thurston and Bowers were the star yearwhom he greatly resembles, and in whose footsteps he should follow. Both Thurston and Bowers are Committee-rooms behind locked doors. The changes entered in all the great two-year-old stakes, as also half-brother to Yorkville Belle. If any of these yearlings prove to be what their trials promise for them, they will win many times the amounts paid

Michael F. Dwyer was by far the largest buyer of the Ehret horses. He spent nearly $100,000 at the sale. With Fairy and Stonenell he should have worthy successors to the brown whirlwind, Kingston. They will take his place in the sprinting contests. Yorkville Bell, Fairy, Demuth, Don Alonzo and Dobbins added to his already powerful string should make his stable one of the most formidable on the turf next year. The sale of the yearlings belonging to Colonel

James E. Pepper took place after the Ehret horses had been disposed of. It would have been much better to have sold them at another time, as many of the buyers were tired and would not wait. Howwith the exception of Chant, they brought what they were worth, averaging about $1,000 each. Chant should have brought more than $6,000. ## THE OHIO VOTE CLOSE.

A SMALL PLURALITY FOR HARRISON INDI-CATED.

ABOUT 1,000 REPUBLICAN PLURALITY ON THE STATE TICKET-THE VOTE OF HAMIL-TON COUNTY.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 13 .- The Republican State Committee has received the official returns from Hamilton County, which was the last to be heard from. It shows a gain over estimates for Taylor (Rep.), for Secretary of State, of 79, and makes his plurality in the State 1.054. The plurality for the Republican electors is 872, with the exception of Seward, who heads the Democratic electors. The official returns from twenty-one counties at the office of Secretary of State shows that he has run ahead nearly 500 votes, due to Democratic blunders in voting, and the same facts are true of Danforth, who heads the Republican electors. The Republican gala in the twenty-one counties over estimates and unofficial reports is 32. In Hamilton County the revised figures on Presidential electors show a disparity in the vote for electors. On the Republican ticket Lorenzo Danforth received the greatest number of votes, 41,963, and Mayor John B. Mosby the lowest, 41,672. On the Democratic ticket James P. Seward received the greatest number of votes, 38,392, and William A. Maline and Thomas C. Leiter the lowest, each, 37, 948. For the People's party 1,110 votes were cast; for the Profabilition party, 5:4 votes were polled. For secretary of State, the vote stands; samuel M. Taylor (Rep.), 41,87; William A. Taylor (Dem.), 37,552; Solon C. Thayer (People's), 1,088, Profabilion, 574. The above figures only await the sanction of the Board of Elections to become official.

SHEEHAN GOES TO THEIR AID. THE DEMOCRATIC ELECTION INSPECTORS OF BUFFALO IN AN EXCEEDINGLY UN-

COMPORTABLE POSITION. Buffalo, Nov. 13 (Special).-Lieutenant-Governor William F. Sheehan has come home from New York, ur doubtedly in answer to the appeals from his local henchmen, who are so openly charged with flagran changes in the returns of last Tuesday's election. had been expected sooner, but many here are of the opinion that he has delayed coming for fear a posthaste return would be taken to indicate knowledge of the local frauds, or a desire on his part to rush to th rescue of the principals. Mr. Sheehan has not made up his mind about matters here yet. He said this afternoon that until he looked into the case more he can horses of any other age. It is not had nothing to say. "But," he added significantly "after I have done that I will have something to say." The work of ferreting out the ballot thieves is advanclings in the Ehret string, baving been purchased for ing satisfactority. New evidence is coming to light, $10,000 each. Thurston brought on 6st-arday night only $6,200, which should the Supreme Court to morrow more startling disclosures be considered a poor price, as he is are promised. Efforts are making to find John highly bred and is a brother to Freeland, by that Okoniewski, Democratic chairman of the election. and when the preliminary examination is resumed in great sire, Longfellow. Bowers brought $13,500 board of the IVth District, Eleventh Ward. This is and he is worth fully that amount, if not more. He the district from which three of the inspectors yes is an own brother to that great racehorse, Tyrant, terday swore that some man unknown to them filled out their election returns at the Democratic General made in the vote of this district alone are sufficient, if is Dobbins, who brought $20,200, a remarkably high proved, to wipe out the plurality the ballot thieves price for this yearling brother to Sir Francis and have made for both Love, Superintendent of Education, and Bissell, District-Attorney.

Public indignation at the outrage is growing. Many prominent Democrats have joined the prosecution, and there will be no turning back until the men who tampered with the returns are in State prison. A fund amounting to $19,000 has been subscribed to push the cases, and both Democrats and Republicaes have contributed liberally. Much more will be given for the contributed liberally. Much more will be given for the work. Adeibert Mott, Spencer Clinton and John G. Miburn have accepted retainers as counsel for the prosecution. Two are prominent Democrats, and the latter was a speaker at the noted "anti kodak" meeting in New York last March. This fight against front has passed beyond party lines, and has become one of decent citizens against the ballot thieves. The cords are drawing closer and closer about the offenders. The latter say, however, being spaired on in their outrageous efforts to defent justice by the utterances of the local Democratic organs, which have not as yet followed the lead of the better class of Democrats in denouncing the wrongs.

WAITING FOR CONGRESS TO ACT. BUSINESS MEN TIMID ABOUT NEW ENTERPRIEES -MANY ORDERS FOR MACHINERY

CANCELLED Chicago, Nov. 13 (Special).-A dispatch from Fosteria, Ohio, says: "This city is already feeling the effect of Democratic success. The Fosteria pelled to put their men on half time. Glass jobbers refuse to purchase until it becomes known what Congress will do with the tariff on glass, and the proprietors do not propose to be caught with a large stock. The Consolidated Window Glass Company to-day gave notice to their employes that hereafter they will work only on order. The pay roll of the two factories is $30,000 a month. The employes are feeling blue at the outlook, although many of them are Democrats.

Boston, Nov. 13 (Special).—The shock to the business interests of this country by the election of the Democratic National ticket and the consequent expectation of a disturbance of the manufacturing enterprises of the United States is already bearing fruit. In Boston yesterday manufacturing stocks failed to find any purchasers. No one was willing to bid at the regular sales of securities which have generally found ready customers. A Fitchburg paper says: "We are obliged to confess defeat, Mr. Cleveland is elected, the country is too big and too prosperous for one man to wreck it, but there cannot full to be a period of uncertainty and falling off in trade. Here is an instance: A man arrived in this city on Wednesday to close a $20,000 order for machinery negotiated for some time ago. He was informed that the firm would not now want the machinery, as the contemplated additions would be abandoned. At sandford & Kelly's banking rooms, New-Bedford, on Saturday, their anction sale of stocks especially mill corporations, was carried on with little mima*ion. Stocks declined 1-4 to 7 3-4 points on the sales of a week ago. A city manufacturing company's shares dropped $7, and the best bid obtainable on Potonska Mills stock was 107 3-4. The last previous sale was at 109. This decline is attributed to lack of confidence in the business outlook of the country. A New-York manufacturer who had intended to erect a mill in Fair facturer who had intended to erect a mill in Fair Haven, Mass., has since election announced that the whole matter is off. The Rotch Millips Company, which intended to build another yarn mill in the spring, has given up the project to await developments. A prominent mill owner of New-Ledford who is doubtless a Republican, said this afternoon that the mill in process of creation would be mished, but that New-Bedford would not see another new mill built in the next ten years. E. D. Jones, Sons & Co., of Fittshield, have received a dispatch cancelling an order for machinery for a $400,000 paper mill in New-York State, for which foundation had already been laid. The projectors have decided not to go on owing to Cleve-land's election.

SUICIDE IN THE BROADWAY CENTRAL HOTEL.

has been a quiet, thoughtful, self-contained man, who was supposed to be a Westerner. He was first seen at the hotel on October 2, and registered as Frederick W. Unger, Chicago. After a stay of two days he went away, but returned on October 10. Three days later he went West, and again registered at the hotel November 1. After another absence he came back last Monday. This time he registered as Frederick V. Unger, without giving an address. He did not ome downstairs at his usual early hour on saturday norning, although he had gone to his room at 10:50 o'clock on Friday night. When at 3:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon his door was still locked and all was silent inside the room, it occurred to Bridget Brennan, the chambermaid, that something might be wrong, and she spoke to Charles T. Wilson, the hotel manager. Mr. Wilson had a pass-key, and walked into the room. Unger lay on the bed, half-dressed, dead, with a bullet-hole in his right temple. The 32-calibre six-chambered revolver grasped in his right hand told the rest of the story. He had left no scrap

A WEBCKING STEAMER'S LONG JOURNEY.

The Merrit-Wreching Company learned yesterday that their vessel, the J. D. Jones, which left here two months ago, for the scene of the wreck of the German steamship Actesian, had arrived at her destination. The Artesian was wrecked on June 15, in the Straits of Magellan, two weeks after her de-parture from Valparaiso, Chill, for Hamburg. The Artesian Hes on a rocky bottom, and is probably a Artesian ties on a rocky bottom, and is probably a total loss, but strong efforts will be made to save the cargo. This is the first time any wrecking company has sent a rescue vessel such a distance

The wrecking company will, in a few days, launch from a slip yerd on Staten Island, their new week-ing boat the William Coley. The Celey is 125 feet long, 25 feet wide and 9 feet in depth. A feature of the boat is her cargo carrying capacity. The company will soon begin the building of another boat, which will be called the William Sharpe.

HE TELED TO BULN HIMSELF IN BED.

In a fit of insane frenzy, Abraham Danziger, a Pole, who lived in a small room at No. 156 Attorneyst., set fire to his hed late on Saturday night, with the determination to burn the house and every one saved the building, and probably averted loss of life. Danziger, who is twenty-nine years old, came to this country a few years ago and settled in Boston, where he was merried. His father, encewealthy, had lost most of his fortune, and six months ago Danziger went back to Poland with his wife, In this, however, he was unsuccessful, and threweeks ago returned to New-York leaving his wife in During the last week he had suffered severely from melancholia, but it was only on sat-urday that he became violent. Two stalwart pollec-men were obliged to exert all their strength in order to take him to Bellevue Hospital. Now he occupies a cot in the "insane" ward, and will in all prob-ability be transferred to Ward's Island.

ACROSS THE NORTH RIVER

A RETROSPECT OF THE ELECTION

ALCULATIONS UPSET BY THE SECRET BALLOT -THE NEW GOVERNOR-CANDIDATES

FOR THE SENATORSHIP.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 13 (Special).-It is file threshing old straw; but it would be fair to give the Republicans of New-Jersey credit for doing what they could, in the general collapse, toward achteving the Impossible. They had supposed that they could at least elect their Governor, because they felt sure Mr. Kean would run far ahead of the National ticket, on the State Issues, which occupied public attention They were right enough in this; and if anybody had said that Werts would have 10,000 less plurality than Cleveland in New-Jersey, there would have been sneers and jeers. Yet such is the fact, Cleveland cetting something like 16,000, and Werts 6,000. The andslide carried everything with it, and that is all that saved the day for Werts. The cutting and slashing in the secret ballot booths were wonderful to behold when the returns came in, and showed that the uses of the envelope which covers the cut ticket as it does the uncut were fully appreciated by the voter.

The astonishing features of the returns were the differences in counties where similar conditions were supposed to prevail. I was every reason to suppose that Essex would do well by the Republican ticket, and it did. There was still better reason to suppose that Passale would do well, and it did not. Camden was supposed to be a stronghold, and it was weak spot. Widely known leaders, who were supposed to be all powerful in their own bailiwicks, seem to have been utterly misled as to prospects, and were unable to stem the tide; and there were places where the leadership was defective that did well. This was more true of Democrats than of Republicans.

Democrats were jubilant over having won bets, and on account of the general victory; but the leaders are rather sober in their reflections, and perhaps some good may result from their cognitations. They have reason to be uneasy, if they are not ostriches indeed, To say nothing of the really narrow escape they have had just now, they find themselves in other trouble. There are McPherson, Abbett, Smith, Pideock, Ross, McDermott, Thompson, Kelsey, Lee, who consider themselves great leaders, each with many private interests, all ambitious, covetous and imperious. Each has a Falstaffan army of self-seekers behind him, intent on getting some good thing. They know the party has gone to the uttermost limits of partiesn-ship in the last three years, and that there must be a halt; that the new State Administration must be comewhat in the nature of a reform Administration if possible. Democrats insist that to the victors belong the spoils, yet know that Cleveland will not venture to make many changes at once. The shadow of a third party is over all. A proposition to adopt the Swiss referendum is even now in shape for presentation to the next Legislature, and has a vigorous support. The successful elimination of the labor rote in the last two years is no longer possible. The Democrats will have their first battle in the Legislative organization. Senator Adrain, who bitterly and personally assailed James Smith, jr., be-fore the convention that nominated a Governor, would like to be President of the Senate again. This Smith cannot permit, and his one senatorial representative, M. T. Barrett, will be the candidate against Adrain. Thomas F. Lane, who represents the Summit District in the Assembly, wants to be Speaker of the House; but he voted for the coal combine, and insisted upon being nominated and elected in spite of

The senatorship will come next, a fortnight after the organization. Governor Abbett is, and has been for years, the candidate of the party for the place. There is a majority of twenty-nine to make imfor years, the candidate of the party for the place. There is a majority of twenty-nine to make impossible a combination with Republicans of anti-Abbett Democrats. If Abbett gets the caucus nomination, he will be elected. The disposition has been to concede it to him; but it has already changed. James smith, fr., of Essex, is constantly named as a candidate against Mr. Abbett. He is not prepared to say that he will be, nor has he declared that he will not be. Nobody knows just what he will do should senator McPherson realize his long ambition to be Secretary of the Treasury, the problem would be solved easily by making both Abbett and smith semators and the chances are two to one that Abbett would have the short form.

It is promised that the Democrats will not be as partisan next winter in the Legislature as they have been. Perhaps it is because they have got about all they can get. It is certain, however, that there will be a vast change in one respect, namely, the dominecring rule of the Governor.

The racetrack question will be the one to provoke most public discussion. The owner of the Gloucester track, and the starter at the same track, are members of Assembly by the will of the voters of Camden and Passale countles. They are there to get legislation. And Guttenburg is there to help them, in the person of several members who are mere tools of the owners of Guttenburg. The Monmouth track and the Linden and Elizabeth track are not without friends; and Thompson, "Duke Billy," owner of Gloucester, is credited with great work for the Democratic candidate last Tuesday.

THE REV. DR. SMITH TO BE TRIED TO DAY.

Cincinnati, Nev. 13.—The Rev. Dr. Henry P. Smith, prominent Presbyterian, of this city, is to be placed on trial to-morrow morning before the Presbytery of Cincinnati, for declaring in a pumphlet written by him recently that the libble contained errors as well as truth. The trial will be held in the First Presby-terian Church. The case excites interest largely because the Professor has followed in the foursteps of the Rev. Dr. Briggs. Dr. Smith has declined to make public his defence. He intends to defend his utterances, and nodes still that the libble is the Word of God, but that it is not demanded that every word be regarded as literally true and inspired.
